We are proud to have consistently won Feefo's Platinum Service award, as voted for independently by our clients.

Book with Confidence

We understand that during the Pandemic, some clients were initially nervous when it came to committing to international travel. We will always be as flexible as possible, as a responsible tour operator.

Our very experienced team is on hand to design the perfect itinerary with award winning support. You can book with confidence, in the knowledge that your trip is 100% financially protected and if you wish to change your plans, you can do this. Here, we have outlined some further details for your peace of mind when making a reservation.

100% Financial Protection

We are a fully bonded tour operator and member of the Association of Bonded Tour Operators Trust (ABTOT) - membership number 5381. Guests that book trips with us, no matter their country of origin, are financially protected by ABTOT. Each year we are required to pass a financial fitness test and pay a sizable bond to protect the monies received from clients. We also hold an Air Travel Organisers License (ATOL 7583), which is issued by the Civil Aviation Authority. In the unlikely event of company failure or a supplier's company failure, guests will be repatriated or offered a full refund.

Low deposit / No change fee / Low cancellation fee

There is a small, holding deposit when you confirm the booking, and the remaining balance is not due until 12 weeks prior to your departure. We appreciate that guests may need to modify their trips or make changes to their itineraries at any time prior to departure, and this can certainly be arranged.

A scenic view of a coastal town in Croatia, likely Dubrovnik, with a boat in the foreground. The town is built on a hillside overlooking the sea, with white buildings and red roofs. The water is clear and blue, and the sky is bright with scattered clouds. A small white boat with a red stripe is in the foreground, tied to a rope.

Why Croatia?

Croatia is a country of a thousand wonders, with an over 3,600-mile-long coastline and some 1,200 islands. From the glorious shores to mountainous inland regions, Croatia boasts many towns and villages that look as if they came straight from the pages of a storybook, complete with narrow, cobblestone streets and often surrounded by medieval walls. There are centuries-old hilltop towns that overlook Tuscan-like landscapes with olive trees and vineyards, which produce delicious local wines. Enjoy them with mouth-watering cuisine in family-run eateries that provide the ultimate farm-to-table meal. No matter what type of traveler you are, everyone from foodies and history buffs to nature lovers will enjoy this beautiful country.

A cruise through Croatia truly is the best introduction to this culturally and scenically diverse Adriatic paradise. The perfect introduction to the beautiful country of Croatia, Split to Dubrovnik cruises are our absolute best-sellers. These two medieval seaside cities make for perfect bookends, providing travelers with the opportunity to explore the more than 1,600-year-old Diocletian's Palace and finish in the "Pearl of the Adriatic". Look forward to island hopping fun with visits to Vis, Hvar, Korcula, and Mljet as well as the chance to marvel at waterfall-filled Krka National Park. You'll have opportunities to sip local wine and feast on delicious local eats as well as enjoy refreshing dips in the inviting turquoise sea, with ships equipped with swimming platforms for easy access. Multiple stops are typically made at beautiful beaches ideal for sunbathing and swimming as well.

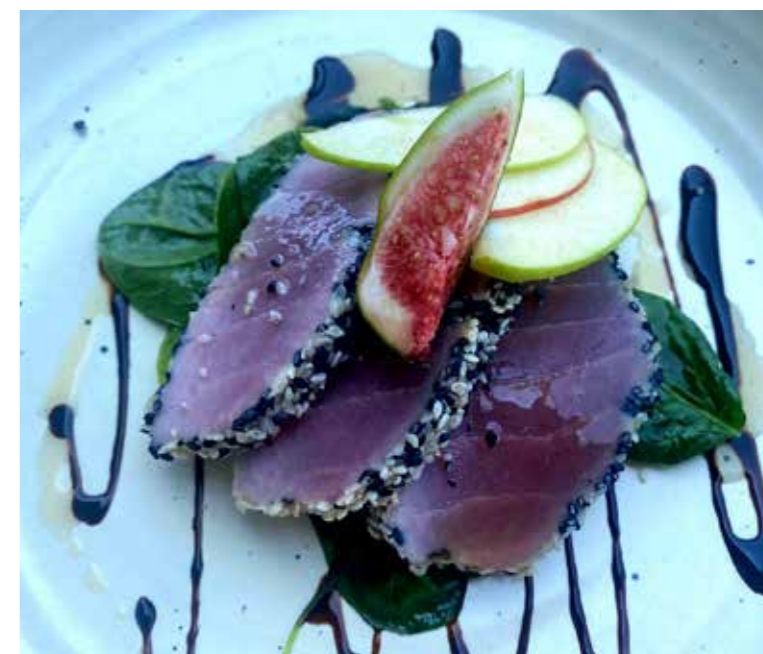

Why Small Ship Cruising is for everyone

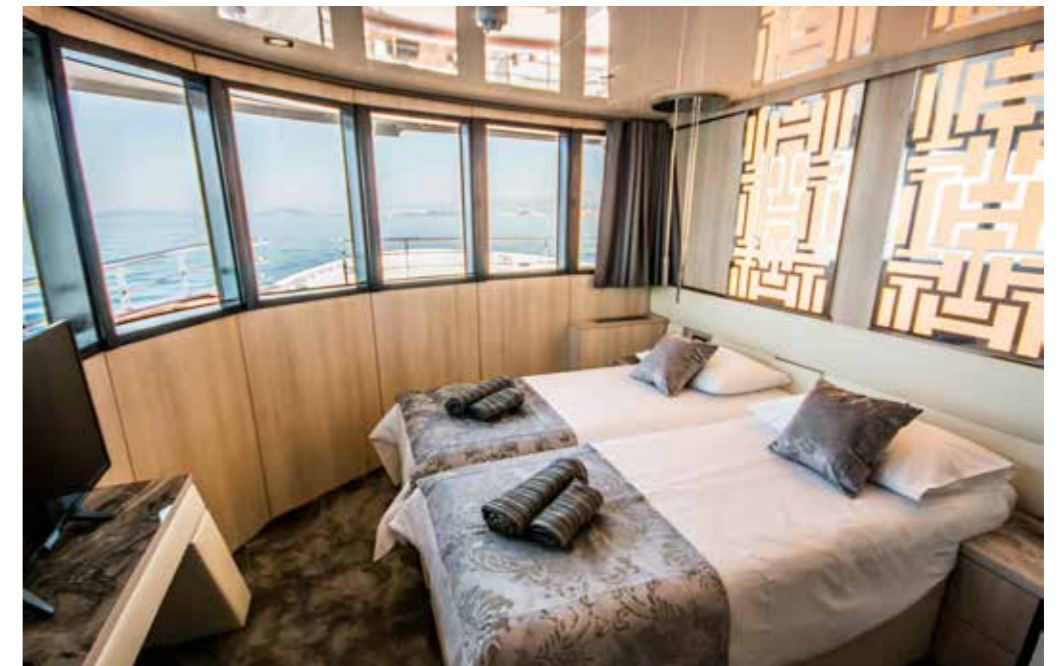

If you envision cruising as a trip on a mega-ship with thousands of passengers, you should know there's a different option that may be more appealing. Small-ship cruises feel more like sailing on a private yacht with more time focused on the destinations. It allows guests to immerse themselves in what each port has to offer, and frequently beyond. Enjoy a more authentic, personalized trip with a crew that gets to know everyone by name and remembers your favorite drink. Our boutique style ships cater for up to 38 like minded guests typically from the US, UK, Australia and Canada, all looking to discover the Dalmatian coast in comfort and style.

Our Sustainability Approach

We Proudly Support Dolphin and Turtle Conservation in the Adriatic

Unforgettable Croatia have donated €20,000 to supporting marine research and conservation in Croatia. Unforgettable Croatia has worked with the Blue World Institute, a non-profit dolphin and turtle research and conservation centre in Losinj. Our donations to the BWI have been used to develop a new marine research centre in Losinj and funding additional volunteering projects aimed at studying dolphins and turtles in the Adriatic.

Croatia's Most Eco-Friendly Cruise Line

As one of Croatia's largest small ship cruise companies, we are mindful of the impact tourism and cruising can have on the beautiful waters and SeaLife in the Adriatic. We are ever mindful of our impact on the environment we operate in. In 2019 we stopped the use of plastic water bottles, plastic straws and other plastic items on board our ships. Guests now have access to filtered water and our highly sought after re-usable water bottles which are provided free of charge.

We Support Local Communities

The ships we operate are all locally built in Croatia, at ship yards not far from Split. The captain, the crew on our vessels and our fantastic ground staff, are all Croatian. Unlike big ocean liners whose proceeds go to corporate firms and hedge funds, the revenue generated from our ships are invested into the local community in the form of job creation, supporting the local community and education.

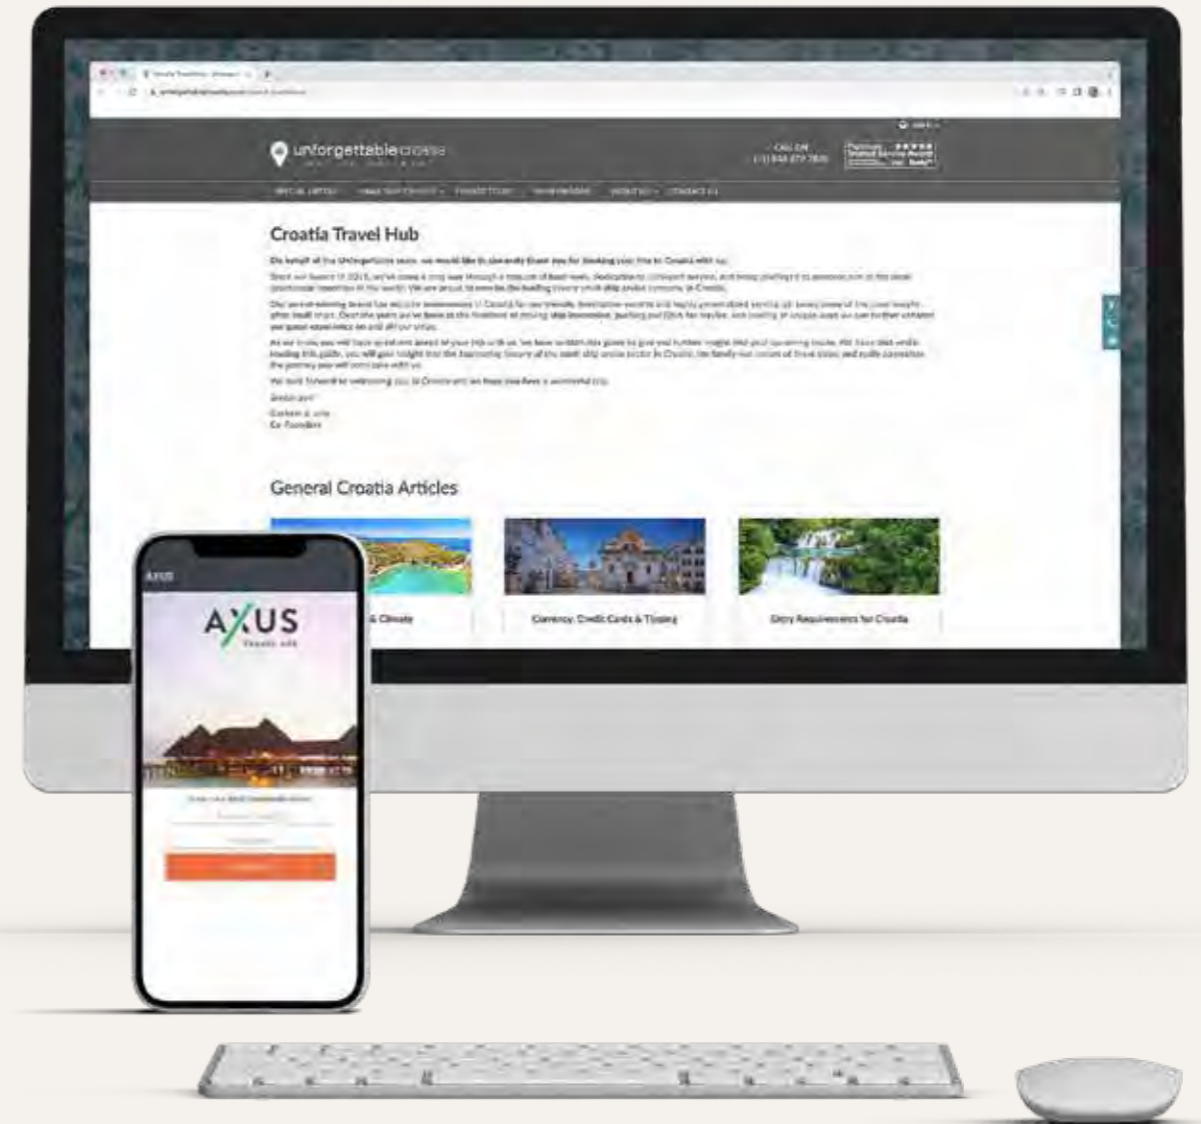

OUR CROATIA TRAVEL

Hub

As a company, we operate very sustainable projects in different parts of the world. As part of that ethos we avoid using single-use plastic and also printing unnecessarily. We issue our travel documents via the Axus Travel App, a very intuitive travel app, which allows our clients to access their travel documents without needing to connect to Wi-Fi.

We also have an online Croatia hub which we share with clients before their trip. This is a centralized hub, with information about entry requirements, weather, restaurant recommendations, cruise frequently asked questions, packing lists, and much more.

If there is anything unanswered, our Croatia sales and operations team will be available to answer any questions you may have about your upcoming cruise or trip.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Good things to know

Can you offer anything for clients celebrating something special?

Our trips, whether customized land tours or small-ship cruises, are particularly popular for guests celebrating special occasions such as anniversaries, milestone birthdays and honeymoons. Our concierge team is on hand to make the trip even more memorable with several extras designed to make the special day itself, and the entire trip even more unforgettable with us. Please notify our Croatia specialists in advance, and we will organize the rest.

Do you cater for Solo Travelers?

Those traveling alone are welcome on our cruises and will be made to feel very comfortable by all of the fellow passengers and crew. These trips are sociable and it is a great way to meet new people and make long lasting relationships with interesting people from all over the world. If guests are traveling alone or wish to have a cabin for themselves, the single person supplement is 60-80% of the one-person price.

Do you cater for all dietary requirements?

On our cruises, we cater for all dietary preferences including vegetarian, vegan, gluten free, dairy free, shellfish free and pescetarian clients. Please consult with our Croatia travel specialists when booking your cruise and advise of us any dietary preferences the crew need to be aware of.

Is there a dress code on your cruises?

The dress code on both our Signature and Deluxe vessels is casual, relaxed and comfortable with smart clothing not required onboard. Our guests opt for a smart/casual dress code at the Captain's Dinner which is held at the end of the cruise.

What is the gratuity policy?

This is discretionary and paid at the end of your cruise. We would suggest a weekly gratuity of €90-€120 per traveler for the crew, which is split among the 8 of them. We would suggest a gratuity of €40-€60 per traveler for the Cruise Director who will coordinate the cruise and deliver on board lectures.

Difference between lower deck and upper deck cabins

The upper deck cabins have windows which open and some cabins have private balconies, which can be used whilst the ship is sailing. The lower deck cabins have portholes which do not open. The lower deck cabins are slightly larger and they are typically cooler and quieter than the upper deck cabins.

Why book a lower deck cabin?

The lower deck cabins are popular for guests who want to enjoy the same beautiful vessel inclusive itinerary and excursions but at a more affordable price. The lower deck cabins are typically cooler and quieter than the upper deck cabins.

Does the cabin location matter on your ships?

On big ocean liners, cabin location on port or starboard side can make a significant difference to your cruise experience. However our vessels sail in between islands and so the location of your cabin isn't as relevant as you will get to see a mixture of sea and mountain views throughout your cruise.

How many swim stops are there?

Our ships stop for at least 1 swim stop a day in a secluded bay. These swimstops typically last for 45 minutes to an hour and give guests the chance to swim off the back of the boat or take part in watersports coordinated by the crew.

How long are the guided tours?

There are daily guided tours which typically run from 4pm to 7pm.

Do guests get seasick on your cruises?

The benefit of sailing along the Croatian coastline is that the sea is very calm and there are hundreds of islands which protect the coast. Therefore it's not common for clients to get sea sick. Our boats are firmly docked in the marinas overnight which again avoids clients from feeling seasick.
